DOCUMENT RESUME

ED 240 789 EC 161 859

AUTHOR Schlessinger, Shelley
TITLE Annotated Bibliography of Materials on Academic Library Service to Disabled Students.
PUB DATE May 83
NOTE 31p.
PUB TYPE Reference Materials - Directories/Catalogs (132)

EDRS PRICE MF01/PC02 Plus Postage.
DESCRIPTORS *Academic Libraries; Accessibility (for Disabled); Annotated Bibliographies; Attitudes; College Students; Disabilities; Higher Education; Library Equipment; Library Instruction; *Library Services

ABSTRACT

The bibliography lists approximately 120 references (1978-83) on academic library services for disabled students. The bibliography was developed from a literature search of five indexes: "Library Literature," ERIC, "Dissertation Abstracts," LISA, and CIJE. Entries are arranged alphabetically by author and include title, source, date, page information, and a brief summary. Among topics addressed are building accessibility, attitudes, orientation maps, community college libraries, audio-visual aids (such as the Optacon and the Kurzweil Reading Machines), computerized aids, reference material, and library instruction. (CL)

****
* Reproductions supplied by EDRS are the best that can be made *
* from the original document. *
****

ED240789

ANNOTATED BIBLIOGRAPHY OF MATERIALS ON ACADEMIC LIBRARY SERVICE TO DISABLED STUDENTS

1978-1983

Most of the articles and books listed in this bibliography were published between the years of 1978-1983. The few that were published before these years were included because they were considered too valuable to leave out.

This bibliography was constructed through a literature search of the following indexes: Library Literature, ERIC, Dissertation Abstracts, LISA, and CIJE.

Selected journals were scanned in order to find pertinent articles not indexed.

EC161855

"PERMISSION TO REPRODUCE THIS MATERIAL HAS BEEN GRANTED BY

Rachelle Schlesinger

TO THE EDUCATIONAL RESOURCES INFORMATION CENTER (ERIC)."

Accessibility: Designing Buildings for the Needs of Handicapped Persons. Washington, D.C.: Library of Congress National Library Service for the Blind and Physically Handicapped, 1979.

Annotated bibliography of books, articles, reports and films on barrier-free design for disabled persons.

Allen, Kenneth W. and Frazer, Gary. "Providing Mediated Services for the Handicapped - a Community College Learning Resources Center Perspective" Illinois Libraries 59(September, 1977):500-503.

Describes a special program called WHIP (Waubonsee Hearing Impaired Program) at the Waubonsee Community College in Sugar Grove, Illinois.

American Library Association. Association of Specialized and Cooperative Library Agencies. Standards of Service for the Library of Congress Network of Libraries for the Blind and Physically Handicapped. Chicago: ALA, 1979.

Text of the Standards.

American Library Association. Association of Specialized and Cooperative Library Agencies. Standards for Library Service to the Deaf Subcommittee. "Techniques for Library Service to the Deaf and Hard of Hearing" Interface 4(Fall, 1981):2-3.

Discusses how libraries can serve hearing impaired individuals. Provides guidance to all types of libraries in the areas of communication, resources, publicity, programs, and staffing. First step toward standards for library services to the deaf.

Ames, Jan. "Libraries Serving Handicapped Users Share Resources" Catholic Library World 52(February, 1981):297-300.

Agencies throughout the country braille and tape materials to meet local needs of disabled patrons not met by the basic collection of the NLS. Cooperative activities among libraries as well as resources available to facilitate these activities are detailed.

Application of Technology to Handicapped Individuals: Process, Problems, and Progress: a Joint Report Prepared for the Subcommittee on Science, Research, and Technology... Washington, D.C.: Library of Congress. Congressional Research Service. Science Policy Research Division, 1980.

Discusses the application of 5 technologies to disabled persons: information resources, educational, rehabilitation, communications, and environmental facilities. Includes bibliography and legislative considerations.

Attitudes Toward Handicapped People, Past and Present. Washington, D.C.: Library of Congress National Library Service for the Blind and Physically Handicapped, 1980.

Annotated bibliography of books, periodical articles, films and bibliographies about attitudes toward disabled persons.

Baskin, Barbara H. and Harris, Karen H. The Mainstreamed Library. Chicago: American Library Association, 1982.

A compilation of articles that deal with three questions: what are the issues that librarians must confront to meet the challenges posed by mainstreaming; what changes in policies and practices must be made; and how can traditional services be modified, broadened,or replaced to meet the special needs of this population. Includes discussion of physical accessibility, materials selection, technology, computers, and outreach programs.

Bauman, Mary Kinsey. Blindness, Visual Impairment, Deaf-Blindness: an Annotated Listing of the Literature, 1953-75. Pennsylvania: Temple University Press, 1976.

An annotated bibliography of nonmedical, mostly monographic literature about blindness, visual impairment and related topics. The bibliography is periodically updated in the journal, Blindness, Visual Impairment, Deaf Blindness: Semiannual Listing of Current Literature.

Begg, Robert. "Disabled Libraries: an Examination of Physical and Attitudinal Barriers to Handicapped Library Users" Law Library Journal 72(Summer, 1979):513-525.

Begins with a brief summary of legislation pertaining to handicapped access. Professional responsibilities toward accessibility are covered, as well as specifics of physical and attitudinal accessibility. The accompanying bibliography is very helpful.

Bentzen, Billie Louise. "Orientation Maps for Visually Impaired Persons" Journal of Visual Impairment and Blindness 71(May, 1977):193-96.

Describes research into the design and commercial reproduction of tactile maps to the Boston, Massachusetts area.

Bliss, James C. and Moore, Mary W. "The Optacon Reading System" Education of the Visually Handicapped 7(May, 1975):33-39.

Describes the historical development of the Optacon and how it works. Includes a bibliography of independent evaluations of the machine.

Bookmark. 39(Fall, 1981): entire issue.

The entire issue is devoted to library services and resources for and about disabled patrons. In addition to articles specifically about academic library services and resources, other articles detail research, equipment and general resources available.

Bopp, Richard E. "Periodicals for the Disabled: Their Importance as Information Sources" The Serials Librarian 5(Winter, 1980):61-70.

Annotated listing of periodical literature published by and/or for disabled persons.

Bopp, Richard E. "Rehabilitation Literature: a Guide to Selection Materials" Library Resources and Technical Services 25(July/September, 1981):228-243.

Describes and evaluates various selection tools on the basis of their coverage of rehabilitation literature and their usefulness to academic, public, and special librarians.

Bopp, Richard E. "Physically Disabled People, Personal Narratives: a Review of Recent Works" Reference Services Review 10(Spring, 1982):45-48.

An annotated list of recently published personal narratives by physically disabled persons.

"Braille and Large-Type Publishers" in Library Resources Market Place. New York: R.R. Bowker Company, published periodically.

Listing of companies and associations which produce books, periodicals or newpapers in braille and large type formats or on records, audiotapes and audiocassettes. Includes addresses and telephone numbers of vendors.

Building a Library Collection on Blindness and Physical Handicaps; Basic Materials and Resource. Washington, D.C.: Library of Congress National Library Service for the Blind and Physically Handicapped, 1981.

A listing of materials recommended to libraries and organizations as basic resources for the provision of current information services on visual and physical disabilities. The list is divided by subject, and is updated quarterly in the publication, Added Entries (published by the Library of Congress National Library Service for the Blind and Physically Handicapped).

Carlisle, Richard F. and others. Evaluation of Community College Handicapped Student Services Programs: a Handbook. California Community Colleges. Sacramento. Office of the Chancellor, 1980. ERIC Doc.No. ED 184 637.

Provides general information and operational suggestions for planning and implementing evaluation of community college handicapped student programs and services. Includes bibliography, sample evaluation questionnaires and models.

Catalog of Captioned Films for the Deaf (Theatrical films and Educational Films for Adults) Prepared by the Special Materials Project of the Associations for Education of the Deaf 1981-82. Maryland: Special Materials Project, 1983. updates issued periodically.

A listing of films available on loan from Captioned Films for the Deaf (Indianapolis, Indiana). Includes film synopses, running time, ratings (adult, all ages, adults only, not suitable for young children), black and white or color, and date of current lease expiration.

Chandler, James G. "Voice Indexing of Tape Recordings" Journal of Visual Impairment and Blindness. 73(May, 1979):191-192.

A brief description of the voice indexing process, equipment needed, and its unlimited possibilities for use.

Charles, Richard. Handicapped Programs: California Community Colleges. 1981. ERIC Doc.No. ED 200 271.

Examines the legal responsibility of California community colleges toward disabled persons as specified in federal and state legislation.

Cheeseman, Margaret and others. Guidelines for Libraries to Serve Special Patrons. Harrisburg: Pennsylvania State Library, 1977. ERIC Doc.No. ED 167 143.

Discusses how librarians must be aware of but not overwhelmed by disabling conditions, and how disabled patrons may be accommodated through adequate physical facilities and special attention. Includes a list of information sources, as well as a list of factors which must be considered in order to adequately meet the needs of blind and deaf patrons.

"Computers and the Disabled" Byte 7(September, 1982):136-317.

The feature of this issue is how microcomputers can be used as aids for disabled persons. Discusses topics including: adapting equipment to give disabled persons access to standard software; speech synthesizers; and braille computer programming languages.

Coons, Maggie and Milner, Margaret. Creating an Accessible Campus. Washington, D.C.: Association of Physical Plant Administrators of Universities and Colleges, 1978. ERIC Doc.No. ED 175 080.

A guide to assist colleges in complying with Section 504 by modifying physical structures.

Cotler, Stephen R. and DeGraff, Alfred H. Architectural Accessibility for the Disabled of College Campuses. New York: State University Construction Fund, October, 1976.

A guide which provides architectural criteria toward realistic acccessibility for disabled persons on college campuses. Includes sections on library accessibility.

Cushman, Ruth-Carol. "The Kurzweil Reading Machine" Wilson Library Bulletin 54(January, 1980):311-315.

Describes how the Kurzweil machine works and how it may be used.

Cylke, F. Kurt. "International Coordination of Library Services for Blind and Physically Handicapped Individuals: an Overview of IFLA Activities" UNESCO Journal of Information Science, Librarianship and Archives Administration. 1(October, 1979):242-248.

A very brief overview of projects and plans of the IFLA Round Table of Libraries for the Blind.

Cylke F. Kurt and Deschere, Allen R. "Information and Communication Devices for Blind and Physically Handicapped Readers" ASIS Bulletin 5(April, 1979):9-11.

A brief overview of equipment and electronic technology for use by blind and physically disabled persons.

Cylke, F. Kurt, ed. Library Service for the Blind and Physically Handicapped: an International Approach: Key Papers Presented at the IFLA Conference 1978 Strbske Pleso, CSSR. New York: KG Saur, 1979.

Addresses the topic of international transfer of special materials for the blind, visually and physically disabled. 5 areas are dealt with: copyright, bibliographic control; postal regulations and custom laws; format; international and national liaison. Identifies problems and suggests solutions.

Deveaux, Patricia Ann. Academic Library Service to Handicapped College and University Students. Ph.D. Dissertation. College for Teachers of Vanderbilt University, 1982.

84 directors of academic libraries were surveyed to determine services currently being offered to physically disabled students.

Duncan, John, et al, comp. "Environmental Modifications for the Visually Impaired: A Handbook" Journal of Visual Impairment and Blindness 71(December, 1977):442-455.

Discusses kinds and sources of information that can be used in planning environmental modifications for the visually impaired. Also includes lists of sources for written information, orientation aids, and technical assistance in the United States.

Eldridge, Leslie. Speaking Out; Personal and Professional Views on Library Service for Blind and Physically Handicapped Individuals. Washington, D.C.: Library of Congress National Library Service for the Blind and Physically Handicapped, 1982.

A compilation of interviews with librarians, students, educators, and users of library services for the blind and physically disabled concerning their thoughts and feelings about attitudes, education and experiences encountered while dealing with visual and physical disabilities.

Ensley, Robert F. ed. "Special Library Services" Illinois Libraries 57(September, 1975):446-460.

This issue is divided into 3 sections, the first of which deals with library services to the blind and physically disabled. Includes general information applicable to all library situations.

Evenson, Richard H. and Levering, Mary Berghaus. "Equalizing Information Access by Handicapped Persons" in Information Choices and Policies; Proceedings of the ASIS Annual Meeting, 1979. New York: Knowledge Industry Publications, 1979. pp. 140-8.

Presents an overview of the NLS services and organizational structure, as well as new technologies in the field.

Flaningam, Donalee. Computerized Aids for the Handicapped. Reston, VA: National Institute of Education, 1981. ERIC Doc.No. ED 210 896.

Examines a variety of computerized aids and devices for disabled persons, as well as ways in which computers might be used in the education and employment of disabled persons. Includes a list of resources, organizations and manufacturers.

Gill, J.M. and Clark, L.L. "Resources for Creating Tactual Graphics" Journal of Visual Impairment and Blindness 72(January, 1978):32-33.

Discusses a technique for producing tactual maps using computer assisted programs.

Goldberg, Leonard M. "Communications Technology for the Hearing Impaired" ASIS Bulletin 5(April, 1979):12-13.

A brief overview of TTY, closed captioning, electronic mail and videodisc technology in aid to the hearing impaired.

Goss, Theresa Carter. Model Library Services for the Hearing Handicapped. Ed.D. Dissertation. Nova University. 1978. ERIC Doc.No. ED 167 163.

Studied 39 deaf students at the St. Petersburg (Florida) Junior College. Concludes that enhancing library services to this population would greatly increase their chances of achieving success in higher education. Special counseling, special library services and greater attention to the educational needs of hearing impaired students are recommended.

Green, Kerry. "Services for the Handicapped" Media and Methods 16(March, 1980):39-40. ERIC Doc.No. EJ 217 595.

Suggests ways that AV personnel can meet the needs of disabled students in the areas of analyzing needs, matching needs with services, staff awareness, publicity, and recordkeeping. Includes a list of organizations that provide learning aids to disabled students.

Hagemeyer, Alice. Deaf Awareness Handbook for Public Librarians. Washington, D.C.: Public Library of the District of Columbia, 1975.

Although this document focuses on public library service, much of the information is applicable to all types of libraries. Includes statistics and definitions of deafness; sections on communication techniques, materials, and resources, and suggestions of special library services for the deaf.

Hagle, Alfred D. "Information access by Blind and Physically Handicapped Persons" in Wesley Simonton, ed. Advances in Librarianship v.12. New York: Academic Press, 1982. pp. 247-275.

Provides definitions and recent statistics concerning persons with visual and physical disabilities in the United States; lists and addresses of agencies that provide special library services and resources; and sections on braille electronic reading machines, paperless braille, optacon machines, braille computer terminals, voice synthesizers, speech compression, voice indexing of audio cassettes, computer-assisted lipreading for the deaf, bibliographic control of special materials, and international cooperation.

Handbook for Blind College Students. 4th ed. Baltimore: National Federation of the Blind, Students Division, 1977. Available from the Federation, 1800 Johnson St., Baltimore, MD 21230.

A handbook for disabled students. Provides suggestions and information concerning higher education and how the disabled student can facilitate his/her own optimal use of college and university services. Includes model forms and sample requests that the disabled student might provide for college and university staff to ease his/her use of the facilities and services. Also includes lists of regional libraries, braille presses, and print book enlargement agencies.

Hebert, Francoise and Noel, Wanda. Copyright and Library Materials for the Handicapped: a Study Prepared for the International Federation of Library Associations and Institutions. New York: KG Saur, 1982.

"...examines the special nature of library services for the handicapped, and identifies copyright problems associated with the production and dissemination of materials in braille, audiotape and large print." (p. 7). Legislation and international copyright conventions to determine types of legislation that might resolve copyright problems are discussed. Also includes recommendations for action by IFLA.

Hopkins, Karen and Johnstone, Charles. "TDDs: What to Consider When Buying" Interface 4(Spring, 1982):2-3.

Provides a chart of TDD devices which are currently available, along with basic information about them.

Huffman, Edythe S. Library Services for the Deaf, Blind and Physically Disabled People in the United States, 1977-1979: an Annotated Bibliography. Master's Thesis. University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill. 1980. ERIC Doc.No. ED 189 816.

Contains 327 items including books, articles, and AV materials, organized into sections which discuss legislation, descriptions of disabilities, technology, attitudes, education, services and resources.

Jackson, Katherine Morgan. A Study of Accessibility of College and University Libraries to Handicapped Students Since the Rehabilitation Act of 1973. Ph.D. Dissertation. Texas A&M University. 1982

Reports on information about accessibility obtained from existing printed sources concerning major construction between 1974 and 1980 at 4-year colleges and universities.

Jahoda, Gerald. "Library Service to Visually Disabled College Students" Community and Junior College Libraries 2(Winter, 1982):21-23.

Describes the needs of visually impaired college students and offers suggestions concerning how to meet these needs.

Jahoda, Gerald. "Suggested Goals for Public Library Service to Physically Disabled Persons" RQ 20(Winter, 1980):149-154.

Although this article deals with public libraries, both the goals that are presented, as well as the survey instrument that is reproduced could be modified for use in an academic library setting.

Judd, P.M. "The Library and Information Needs of Visually Handicapped Students: A Survey of the Problems with Some Suggestions for Academic Library Policy" Journal of Librarianship 2(April, 1977):96-107.

Discusses the problems of visually handicapped students, how they are being solved, and how they might be solved in British academic libraries.

Kamisar, Hylda. "Signs for the Handicapped Patron" in Sign Systems for Libraries: Solving the Wayfinding Problem. edited by Dorothy Pollett and Peter C. Haskell. New York: Bowker, 1979. pp. 99-103.

Provides a checklist of major design elements to be considered when developing a total guidance system.

Kraus, Krandall and Biscoe, Eleanor, eds. Summary Proceedings of a Symposium on Educating Librarians and Information Scientists to Provide Information and Library Services to Blind and Physically Handicapped Individuals. July 2-4, 1981. San Francisco, California. Washington, D.C.: Library of Congress, 1981.

Summary of conference proceedings which discussed the questions of what information needs of disabled patrons can be met by libraries; what librarian competencies will be needed to meet these needs; why should and how can library schools prepare librarians to meet these needs.

Lane, Elizabeth and James. "Reference Material for the Disabled" Reference Services Review 10(Fall, 1982):73-76.

A selective bibliography of several types of reference sources which can be useful to disabled individuals.

Large Type Books in Print. New York: R.R. Bowker Company, published periodically.

Produced in large print format, this includes general reading materials and textbooks which have been produced in 14 point type or larger. Gives the same information about the books as that provided in Books in Print.

Lende, Helga. Books about the Blind: a Bibliographic Guide to Literature Relating to the Blind. New York: The William Byrd Press, Inc., 1953.

One of the first attempts to list nonmedical literature related to visual impairments.

Lessee, Judith. "A Bibliography of Media Resources" Reference Services Review 10(Spring, 1982):48-56.

An annotated review of films and other media along with comments on evaluating, locating, and utilizing media on the disabled.

"Libraries for the Blind and Physically Handicapped" in American Library Directory. New York: R.R. Bowker Company, published annually.

A directory of regional and subregional libraries of the Library of Congress National Library Service for the Blind and Physically Handicapped.

"Libraries Serving the Deaf and Hearing Impaired" in American Library Directory. New York: R.R. Bowker Company, published annually.

A selective listing of libraries in the United States which provide TTY or TDD reference service. The listing serves as a special index to the Directory.

Library Resources for the Blind and Physically Handicapped. A Directory of Division of the Blind and Physically Handicapped Network Library Libraries and Machine Lending Agencies. Washington, D.C.: Library of Congress National Library Service for the Blind and Physically Handicapped, published annually.

A directory of Network libraries and machine lending agencies in the United States.

Library Technology Reports. 17(November/December, 1981): entire issue.

This issue of the journal is devoted to library equipment for disabled patrons. It includes addresses, prices and detailed descriptions/evaluations of equipment for the blind, physically disabled, hearing impaired, and deaf.

McConnell, David. "Helping Students with a Disability Achieve their Academic Aims" Studies in Higher Education. 6(no.1, 1981):35-45.

The special needs of disabled college students are examined. It is proposed that each institution of higher education have a policy statement on disabled student admission to ensure these students' welfare.

Major, Jean A. "The Visually Impaired Reader in the Academic Library" College and Research Libraries 39(May, 1978):191-196.

The findings of a 1975 needs assessment study for the Ohio State University Library for the Blind included the need for more tape recording equipment, catalogs of materials, information about available state and local services, special reading and listening rooms, recreational and reference materials, and a register of local readers and braille transcribers.

Makas, Elaine, comp. Attitudes and Disability: an Annotated Bibliography, 1975-1981. Washington, D.C.: George Washington University, 1981. ERIC Doc.No. ED 218 855.

Annotates documents dealing with attitudes related to disabilities.

Marx, Pat. The Handicapped Student on College Campuses: Advocacy, Responsibility, and Education. National Conference (3rd, Denver, Colorado, May 18-27). 1980. ERIC Doc.No. 216 488.

Proceedings of the conference include papers on attitudes, faculty relations, delivery services, and adjustment to disabilities.

Materials from the National Arts and the Handicapped Information Service: Annotated Bibliography. Second Draft. New York: National Arts and The Handicapped Information Center, 1978. ERIC Doc.No. ED 183 158.

Describes media and materials on the subject of the arts and disabled persons. Includes books, recordings, films, braille and large print since 1970. Does not include journals, articles, or dissertations.

MIGHT: a Guide to the University of Texas at Austine for Handicapped Students. 7th edition. Texas: University of Texas at Austin. Office of the Dean of Students: Services for Handicapped Students, 1978.

A guide for disabled students (published by the Mobility Impaired Grappling Hurdles Together - MIGHT - student organization) at the University of Texas at Austin. The guide not only includes physical accessibility information, but also includes social accessibility information and delineations of teacher and counselor/student and counselee responsibilities.

Mistler, Sharon. Planning for Implementation of Section 504 at Colleges and Universities. Washington: Regional Rehabilitation Research Institute on Attitudinal, Legal and Leisure Barriers. March, 1978. Available from the Institute, the George Washington University, 1828 L Street, NW, Suite 704, Washington, D.C. 20036.

Provides detailed explanations and suggestions for applications in universities for each part of the Rehabilitation Act of 1973, Section 504.

National Organizations Concerned with Visually and Physically Handicapped Persons. Washington, D.C.: Library of Congress National Library Service for the Blind and Physically Handicapped, 1980.

A directory of organizations, professional and volunteer associations, and federal agencies which offer direct and advisory services for disabled individuals.

Needham, William L. "Academic Libary Service to Handicapped Students" Journal of Academic Librarianship 3(November, 1977):273-9.

A brief version of the book listed in this bibliography under Needham and Jahoda.

Needham, William L. and Jahoda, Gerald. Improving Library Service to Disabled Persons: A Self-Evaluation Checklist. Colorado: Libraries Unlimited, 1983.

Major portions of the text are practical self-evaluation checklists for use by public, academic, and school librarians who wish to review and evaluate the adequacy of their libraries' resources, services, staffing, funding, facilities and public relations to and for disabled patrons. Text includes lists of organizations that provide special format materials, provide I and R services, or provide technical assistance and materials to persons with disabilities. Also includes a bibliography of professional readings, policy and job description guidelines for coordination and coordinators of library services to the physically disabled, funding strategies, standards, and legislation affecting service to this group.

Opocensky, Virginia Belle Larson. A Comparison of Library Media Centers in Public Residential Schools for the Deaf with 'Standards for Library-Media Centers in Schools for the Deaf'. Ph.D. Dissertation. University of Nebraska. 1975.

Obtained information on the extent to which library media centers in US public residential schools for the deaf met or failed to meet the 1967 Standards for Library Media Centers in Schools for the Deaf.

Parkin, Derral. The University Library: a Study of Services Offered the Blind. ERIC Doc.No. ED 102 972.

Surveyed 65 four year universities in the Intermountain West concerning how many blind students they had and what services and facilities were available to them. A second survey was distributed to blind students attending Brigham Young University. An analysis of both surveys showed that full potential service to the blind is not being offered.

Peterson, Brenda and Bodenhamer, Genie. North Texas State University Faculty Guide for Helping Handicapped Students. Texas: North Texas State University. Office of the Dean of Students. Services to Handicapped Committee, no date of publication given.

A guide for faculty which provides useful information about disabling conditions and how to meet the special needs of disabled students.

Planning Barrier Free Libraries; a Guide for Renovation and Construction of Libraries Serving Blind and Physically Handicapped Readers. Library of Congress. National Library Service for the Blind and Physically Handicapped. Washington, D.C.: Library of Congress National Library Service for the Blind and Physically Handicapped, 1981.

A guide which suggests ways to establish renovation programs for network libraries. Space requirements, various types of equipment, and types of furniture are recommended.

Pool, Jane. Library Services for the Blind and Physically Handicapped: a Bibliography, 1968-1979. Washington, D.C.: Library of Congress, 1979.
This bibliography includes materials conerning library service to the blind, physically disabled, elderly, and institutionalized.

Prescott, Katherine. "New Standards for Library Service to the Blind and Physically Handicapped" Catholic Library World 52(November, 1980):160-163.
A review and brief explanation of each area in the new standards for the NLS (see entry under American Library Association of Specialized and Cooperative Library Agencies in this bibliography) by the chair of the committee which formulated them.

Prine, Stephen and Wright, Kieth C. "Standards for the Visually and Hearing Impaired" Library Trends 31(September, 1982):93-108.
A detailed review of the development of standards for library service to the visually and hearing impaired.

Proceedings of the Institute on Library Service to the Handicapped: Instructional Material for Inclusion in the Core Curriculum of Library Schools. August 27-September 1, 1978. Tallahassee, Florida: Florida State University, 1978. ERIC Doc.No. ED 171 301.
Papers describe various aspects of library service to disabled persons. Includes sample instructional materials for library school courses, bibliography, and annotated list of AV materials on disabilities.

Proceedings of the Johns Hopkins First National Search for Applications of Personal Computing to Aid the Handicapped, October 31, 1981. California: IEEE Computer Society, 1981.

303 pages of available computer-assisted communications technology to aid visually, physically, and hearing impaired persons. All entries include descriptions of how the technology works, how it can be used, what it cannot do, and from whom it may be obtained.

Readership Characteristics and Attitudes. Service to Blind and Physically Handicapped Users. Washington, D.C.: Market Facts Inc., 1981.

Presents findings of a 1979 survey of NLS users. The survey's objective was to develop a profile of the NLS readership that would aid the NLS in its future program planning by identifying readers' concerns and interests.

Recording for the Blind Catalog of Recorded Books, 1979/1980 with 1980/81, 1981/82, 1982/83 supplements. New York: Recording for the Blind, 1983. Catalog is published periodically.

Catalog of books recorded by Recording for the Blind and available free to blind and visually disabled persons.

Redden, Martha Ross. "Access on America's Campuses: What's the Progress and Resources" Programs for the Handicapped no.5(September/October, 1979):12-20.

Provides annotated lists of associations, agencies, and resources which provide information and/or direct assistance for making institutions accessible to disabled persons.

Redmond, L. compiler. Reading, Writing, and Other Communication Aids for Visually and Physically Handicapped Persons. Washington, D.C.: Library of Congress National Library Service for the Blind and Physically Handicapped, 1978.

This listing of products includes descriptions of the devices, prices, and addresses of the companies from which they may be obtained.

Reid, Barbara A. "Programs for Disabled Students" New Directions for Community Colleges. 7(Fall, 1979):27-34.

Describes the necessary steps in developing and implementing a comprehensive program of services to disabled students.

Resource Guide to Literature on Barrier-Free Environments with Selected Annotations. US Government Printing Office. Architectural and Transportation Barriers Compliance Board. 1980. ERIC Doc.No. ED 203 577.

Lists and annotates materials concerned with the following accessibility issues: architecture, transportation, parks and recreation, legislation, statistics, disabilities by type, attitudes, aids, and information sources.

Ross, Judi. ed. "Wisconsin Conference on Library Services" Information: Reports and Bibliographies. 11(no.3, 1982): entire issue.

The entire issue is devoted to the topic of library services to disabled persons. Although the papers do not deal directly with academic libraries, such generally applicable issues as legislation and attitudes are covered.

Rouse, Ralph D. "Presentation on Section 504 of the Rehabilitation Act" Journal of Education for Librarianship. 21(Winter, 1981):196-207.

Provides basic information concerning the history of the Rehabilitation Act of 1973 and its impact on libraries.

Self, Phyllis C. and Bopp, Richard E. "Breaking Down Barriers" Illinois Libraries 63(September, 1981): entire issue.

Proceedings of a 1981 workshop at the University of Illinois (entitled Breaking Down Barriers) which was directed by the Illinois Center for Rehabilitation Information. Discusses technology, library instruction for disabled persons, and special services for the deaf and hearing impaired. Includes lists of major information centers on disabilities in the United States, and a checklist for assessing the needs of disabled users.

Selvin, Hanan C. "Some Immodest Proposals for Improving Library Services to the Blind: Reflections of a Handicapped Library User" Information: Reports and Bibliographies 7(no. 2, 1978):22-26.

Discusses improvements that could be made to the NLS service including: network library 800 numbers, new technology, better public relations, and better indexing of available materials.

Senkevitch, Judith J., ed. "Information Services to Disabled Individuals" Drexel Library Quarterly 16(April, 1980): entire issue.

Entire issue is devoted to the topic. Issues discussed include education of librarians to provide special services, architectural and program accessibility, I and R services, research and new technology, and international developments.

Senkevitch, Judith J. "Toward a National Rehabilitation Data Base" ASIS Bulletin 5(April, 1979):14-15.

A brief discussion of the history, goals and current activities of NARIC (National Rehabilitation Information Center).

Services to the Disabled in ARL Libraries. SPEC Kit #81. Washington, D.C.: Association of Research Libraries, 1982.

Report of a survey of ARL members which shows trends in library service to disabled college students at ARL libraries. Includes planing documents, building and facilities documents, general policies and procedures statements, special services policy and publicity documents, position descriptions, brochures and a bibliography.

Smith, Lynn M. The College Student with a Disability: a Faculty Handbook. Washington, D.C.: US Government Printing Office, 1980. ERIC Doc.No. ED 198 766.

A guide to adjustments that may be made in the academic environment to facilitate its use by disabled students. Includes discussion of readers, recorded materials, braille, technology, accessibility, and communication aids.

Smalley, Ann Walker and Mendenhall, Kathryn. Final Report on the State-of-the-Network: an Evaluation of NLS, the Regional Libraries, and the Multistate Centers in Relation to ALA Standards of Service for Blind and Physically Handicapped Readers to the Library of Congress National Library Service for the Blind and Physically Handicapped. Ohio: Battelle, 1983.

The purpose of the review project was to determine the level at which the 56 NLS regional libraries, NLS and the 4 multistate centers met the Standards of Service for the Library of Congress Network of Libraries Serving the Blind and Physically Handicapped (see entry under American Library Association of Specialized and Cooperative Agencies in this bibliography).

Steinfeld, Edward. Access to the Built Environment: a Review of Literature. Washington, D.C.: US Department of Housing and Urban Development, Office of Policy Development and Research, 1979.

Discusses access as a civil right, codes and regulations pertaining to accessibility, the scope of barrier-free design, and other pertinent topics. Includes bibliographies at the end of the chapters.

Stilwell, William E. Barriers in Higher Education for Persons with Handicaps: a Continued Challenge. 1981. ERIC Doc.No. ED 200 155.

Survey and evaluation of the degree to which Kentucky's private and junior colleges are meeting the needs of disabled students.

Strom, Maryalls, ed. Library Service to the Blind and Physically Handicapped. Metuchen, NJ: Scarecrow Press, 1977.

A compilation of journal articles about the reading needs of visually and physically disabled persons.

A Study of Handicapped Services. Charleston, South Carolina: Trident Technical College, 1980. ERIC Doc.No. ED 186 078.

Describes existing services to disabled students, and recommends improvements at the Trident Technical College. Includes discussion of legal and moral obligations in the areas of admissions, advisement, job placement and library services.

Thomas, James L. "College and University Library Services for the Handicapped Student in Texas: Selected Findings from a Survey." Texas Library Journal 56(Winter, 1980):12-14.

Discusses the results of a survey of college and university libraries in Texas. The survey instrument is reproduced.

Thomas, James L. and Thomas Carol H. Academic Library Facilities and Services for the Handicapped. Phoenix, AZ: Oryx Pres, 1981.

Lists most US libraries in post-secondary and specialized institutions and indicates which have special parking, ramps, elevators, special equipment, and staff trained to meet the special needs of disabled patrons.

Thomas, James L. and Thomas, Carol H. "A Report of the Findings from the Survey Academic Library Facilities and Services for the Handicapped Student in the United States" Dikta 7(Winter, 1983):109-121.

A summary report of the survey which produced the data for Academic Library Facilities and Services for the Handicapped, by Thomas and Thomas (see entry in this bibliography).

Thwaits, Margaret B. Academic Library Instruction Program for Developmentally Disabled Adults. Colorado: Colorado State University, 1979. ERIC Doc.No. ED 205 220.

Discusses the results of a library instruction program for developmentally disabled students at Colorado State University. Includes examples of exercises used in the program.

Tickton, Sidney G. and others. 1981 Idea Handbook for Colleges and Universities: Educational Opportunities for Handicapped Students. Washington, D.C.: Academy for Educational Development, Inc. 1981. ERIC Doc.No. ED 209 984.

A compilation of notable programs, innovative approaches and practical ideas from 166 US colleges and universities. Addresses and telephone numbers of program coordinators are included.

Vanderheiden, Gregg. "Modifying and Designing Computer Terminals to Allow Access by Handicapped Individuals" in Clinic on Library Applications of Data Processing: Public Access to Library Automation. edited by J.L. Divilbiss. Urbana-Champaign, Illinois: Graduate School of Library and Information Science, 1980.

Survey and evaluation of modifications that can be made to computer terminals to allow manipulation of the keyboard and use of displayed output by visually, physically and cognitively disabled persons.

Velleman, Ruth A. "Library Service to the Disabled: an Annotated Bibliography of Journals and Newsletters" Serials Librarian 5(Winter, 1980):49-60.

"This bibliography offers a basic listing of journals in the fields of medical and vocational rehabilitation, special education, and journals written for disabled persons themselves. Existing data bases are mentioned and the continuing need for a central clearinghouse cited." p. 49.

Velleman, Ruth A. Serving Physically Disabled People: an Information Handbook for All Libraries. New York: R.R. Bowker Company, 1979.

General reference tool including chapters on: attitudes, public libraries, special rehabilitation libraries, school and university libraries, and legislation. Includes detailed bibliographies.

Weber, Donald John. "Periodicals Supporting Library Service for the Blind and Physically Handicapped" Serials Review 7(April/June, 1981):45-47.

An annotated list of primary print periodicals published in support of library service for the physically disabled.

Weinberg, Belle. "The Kurzweil Machine: Half a Miracle" American Libraries 11(November, 1980)603-604,627.

A research project at the New York Public Library suggested that the Kurzweil machine will fail to reach its potential audience of blind readers unless abundant library staff support is provided.

Wexler, Henrietta. "Books that Talk" American Education 17(January-February, 1981):15-17.

A brief overview of the history and current services of the Library of Congress National Library Service for the Blind and Physically Handicapped, as well as the Recording for the Blind.

Whalen, Lucille and Miller, Joan A. " Library Services for the Adult Handicapped: an Institute for Training in Librarianship" Information: Reports and Bibliographies 7(2, 1978):entire issue.

Proceedings from an institute held at the School of Library and Information Science, State University of New York at Albany, October 9-14, 1977. Includes articles concerning history of library service to the disabled; the psychology of disabilities; expectations of library service; attitudes toward the disabled; legislation; and resources and services.

Wilkinson, Rosalyn, ed. Everything You Wanted to Know about Handicapped Students (and Were Not Afraid to Ask) New York: State University of New York, Buffalo, 1981. ERIC Doc.No. ED 207 382.

A guide for faculty which provides information concerning how to make accomodations for disabled students in academic courses and programs.

Wilson, Betty-Ruth. Accessibility on the Campus; Architectural Barriers and the Disabled Student, 1970-1980, an Annotated Bibliography. Monticello, IL: Vance Bibliographies, 1982.

Annotated bibliography of materials about accessibility for disabled students on college campuses.

Wright, Kieth C. Library and Information Services for Handicapped Individuals. Colorado: Libraries Unlimited, 1979.

Provides general information concerning library service to blind, physically disabled, mentally handicapped, and aged patrons. Also includes sections on legislation and definitions of specific disabling conditions.

Wright, Kieth C. "Library Education and Handicapped Individuals" Journal of Education for Librarianship 21(Winter, 1981):183-195.

Discusses the impact of Section 504 of the Rehabilitation Act of 1973 in the area of library education. Focuses on needed modifications in curricula, media formats, access to programs and services, and stereotyped attitudes toward disabled persons by faculty, students and their professional peers.